

Frontend Game Developer Job Description

About NetGaming

NetGaming is a games studio that was established in 2019; we launched towards the end of 2020. We are live in 12 jurisdictions, 2 new licence applications are in progress, we have over 65 games in our portfolio and have onboarded several operators including some of the biggest brands in the industry.

NetGaming's approach toward game production is driven by innovation and simplicity. We strive to add unique features and mechanics to our games that are tightly integrated with the game theme. Our games have a lot of character and personality; there is a lot of research and thinking that goes into picking a theme and mechanics to go along with it.

We are looking for a passionate, technically skilled, and driven Frontend Game Developer to join our team in delivering high-quality content. You will be responsible for Frontend Game Development.
